The professor was also willing to go through example problems and also post example problems on Ecampus. You could tell that he was enthusiastic about the content and really cared about his students. This was a challenging class for me, but his willingness to answer any of my questions really encouraged me and pushed me to continue to do better in the class. He is a great professor, and he also brought his real–world experience into the class.
Examples of how my professor was helpful to my learning would be he was very understanding and supportive of everyone in the class, he was accepting of my accommodations and always explained questions asked with an amazing answer. He exceeded my expectations and was an amazing professor!
Office hours, offering different variations of tests, keeping the assignments different(not all tests, quizzes, etc)

Please provide constructive suggestions in terms of how this course could be changed to improve your learning:

Overall, I don't have much to critique because the professor did a great job. But I think he should do the Excel activities we did in class toward the end of the semester, rather than at the beginning, since our final project involved Excel. That wasn't a big deal for me since I know how to use Excel well, but I think other students may have felt that way.
I do not have any suggestions on how to improve my learning for this course because my professor was very understanding and supportive.
I truly think that he is a very intelligent and should be teaching a higher level class. I think that he understands the material very thoroughly so it seems more complicated to people in this class because it is more towards the beginning of Econ courses. Overall he is great and very helpful. Offering more practice questions, and specific lists of things to go over, etc would be helpful as well.
